

To register and personalize your copy of Realmz simply run Realmz and wait for the "About Realmz" window to appear. Then type in the registration code as it appears above to the right of the words "Registration Code" and click REGISTER.

Scenario Registration Information:

When you come to a point in a scenario where it asks for your registration name, enter the name that appears on line 1 below. It will then ask you to enter the registration number as it appears below. If in the future you need to re-install your Realmz software, you will have to reset the serial number of your copy so it matches the one listed above. To do this enter your verification code 410 instead of your registration code and it will allow you to RESET your serial number so it matches the one listed above.

Serial Number: 13706024
Registration Code: 7995820
Verification Code: 410

First enter "410" as your registration code. That will open a text box and allow you to change the Serial number of the game. Change the serial number to 13706024. The game will then reset. When you are loaded back in you'll see the serial number. To register this number use the registration code 7995820. It will then ask you to enter a name. The name to be entered is AMBERK. Enter that and click through the text boxes. And congratulations, you're ready to play.

Divinity Scenario Editor for Mac OS 7-9, it will ask for an activation code unless you replace the preference files with those in the next link. You need to copy the New Scenario and Tutorial folders from the Scenario folder of the 8.0.7 beta in order for Divinity to not crash on startup (these folders are not in the Scenario folder of the Realmz 7.1.2 on the Divinity CD, oddly).

staff of seeking in Griloch's Revenge While standing on x76 y33 I used the Encounter button cast destroy magic. This resulted in a message saying the magical barrier is gone. I then used Encounter button again (while still on x76 y33) and cast Teleport Party. This triggered descriptions of swirling, disoriented, then appearing in the shack where the dwarf hands you the Staff of Seeking.
